PROFILE

Up until March 2018, I was a Terminal Supervisor on contract to ESSO Ireland Limited, Job role comprising of the running of the terminal monitoring truck loading of petroleum products ex loading rack, emphasis on driver safety loading correctly and wearing correct PPE at all times. Visual and noted inspection of ADR regulations for fixed tanks and driver documentation/equipment on vehicle making sure they meet ADR requirements. Training Driver trainer's the use of the terminal equipment so they can train their own company drivers. Assessment on all drivers using the terminal equipment loading the correct way.

Job safety analysis on all contractors working on projects on the terminal site as per ESSO work control procedures and completion of Work Permits for all contract work. Carry out Loss Prevention observation reports on all contract parties.

Product quality testing on all products shipped into the terminal in the ESSO laboratory.

Power point presentations to all precipitants of the terminal for use off and emergency procedures.

Key role on team building to create a safe working environment.

Dangerous Goods Safety Advisor for ESSO Ireland limited.

CAREER HISTORY

The last 20 years I have worked here at the Esso terminal the first role I had was a driver for Hoyer UK delivering Esso product to Esso owned garages and bulk plants around the country.

I became a Driver Training Instructor for Hoyer Ireland teaching and re-training drivers loading and unloading procedures of petroleum products. Teaching drivers advanced driving skills under the smyths system used by Esso all over the world.

Keeping records on all driver ADR training and up to date operations training.

I then became a terminal supervisor for ESSO Ireland under contract with SGS IRL. LTD taking the role of terminal operation overseeing the loading of vehicles. This role expanded throughout the years with product quality, work control procedures, driver training and assessments, and the role of DGSA for Esso Ireland.

After being made redundant in March 2018, I decided to go back to college and study Youth Work and community development, where I gained Distinctions in all modules, I was always interested in helping and working with young people through-out my life, giving them guidance in an ever changing society, and help them achieve their goals. This also was reflected to my commitment being involved with school-boys soccer for the DDSL as a referee, where each weekend I would give up my time to participate in the league, a very rewarding role, and to witness some great young stars.

I worked at the Bosco Youth centre Drimnagh, from September 2018 until August 2019, this position rolled on from my placement there when I was in college, they asked if I would stay on and help out now and then, which ended up as summer work for 2019, a really enjoyable experience working with the local young people, and the great staff at the centre. I 'am involved with the supervision and participation, with activities for the summer projects, with weekends away on residential. I now work as a Driver/Care worker for the central remedial clinic, working with people with disabilities.
